These were short dictation exercises taken from portions of the readers with which the pupils were familiar. These samples were 2,359 in number. After being collected from the schools, they were sent to New York and each sample was rated by three competent judges in the offices of the Division of Education of the Russell Sage Foundation. The Ayres Handwriting Scale was used in making these ratings. This scale is a device for measuring the quality of children s handwriting in definite, quantitative terms. It consists of a long sheet of paper on which are reproduced samples of handwriting ranging from very poor to excellent and the samples are so selected that...
